The Entrepreneurial Assistance Program, located at SUNY Broome, is made possible by the Broome Enterprise Triad-SUNY Broome, Broome-Tioga Workforce New York and the Broome County Urban League.

Co-sponsored by the Binghamton Local Development Corporation and the SUNY Broome Entrepreneurial Assistance Program

The Binghamton Local Development Corporation (BLDC) supports the City of Binghamton's economic development strategy by attracting new businesses, working to retain and grow established businesses, build industrial and commercial capacity, promote employment and foster innovation and entrepreneurship.

The SUNY Broome Entrepreneurial Assistance Center's Entrepreneurial Assistance Program (EAP) provides resources and assistance to ventures in all stages, from start-ups to existing community businesses wishing to expand. EAP is sponsored by SUNY Broome, Broome-Tioga Workforce New York, Broome County Urban League, and the Binghamton Local Development Corporation with funding from Empire State Development Corporation.

Additional support is provided by the Binghamton University Office of Entrepreneurship and Innovation Partnerships staff at the Koffman Southern Tier Incubator which provides promotion, facilities, and technical support for this year's competition.

JUDGES & SCORING

Judges: Judges from the financial and small business sectors representing the BLDC and EAP will score the competition.

Scoring: The oral/video presentation will count as 40% of the overall score and the written business plan will count as 60%. Within the written business plan and oral/video business plan presentation, points will be weighted with the most emphasis on complete and realistic financial analysis (1 low to 5 high). In case of a tie, business plans that incorporate services to or employment of veterans will receive an additional point. Otherwise, a winner will be chosen by lot from among the tied candidates.

QUALIFICATION APPLICATION + EXECUTIVE SUMMARY Due April 5, 2023 to ecodev@cityofbinghamton.gov

Outline for Qualifying Executive Summary

Your executive summary is your pitch.

The first paragraph of your executive summary should generally include your business's name, its location and what product or service you will sell.

The second should highlight your target market(s), competitors, niche and your competitive advantages.

Include your financial analysis, projected sales and profits, unit sales and profitability. Think about these questions: How much money will it take to start or expand your business? What will be the sources of that money? How would the prize money be spent? What is the income potential of the business? How much money do you need to make each month to break even?

Include your marketing strategy: how will you reach and win over new customers?

Describe your team: explain how you and your business partner(s) are each uniquely qualified to execute your vision for this business and why you are the right team to bring this business to success.

Include milestones and how you plan to achieve them. If you have already accomplished notable milestones, mention those. For example, if you are opening an ice cream shop, investors will want to know about your plans to sign a lease, design the interior and open for business. Or if you have invented a new medical device, prospective investors will want to know where you are in the clinical trial process. What steps have been accomplished?
